

2015-2016 APUSH Survey

Question: If there's anything that you could tell next year's AP students, what would it be?

Student Responses:

- have fun
- It would be to never miss a homework and to study the material daily.
- Keep up and dont fall behind
- Do all of your homework and read things on the website.
- Do the HW and pay attention in class, read the articles posted on the twitter
- I would tell them to try and listen to all your lectures. as they are informative and detailed
- Do the homework
- Make sure you read everything mr loja assigns you even if it seems pointless at the time it gives a lot of information that you need for the AP exam Be sure to do your homework every night its very important and you won't be prepared for anything in the class if you don't do the homework
- It's not that hard. You'll be well prepared. Just follow the reviews Loja has and you'll be set
- do the homework and read the essays and articles that loja posts. dont study for AP exam last minute
- make top 5 lists. theyre good
- Study periods 1-5 ahead of time for the AP Exam and don't wait until the last minute.
- Don't stress out about the exam, it is not as bad as it seems. Mr. Loja is a good teacher and will prepare you guys well. Study for the exam.
- Don't stress about the class or the exam. Mr. Loja is a good teacher; if you study, listen, and pay attention, you will be fine in this class.
- I would tell students to begin studying for the exam early and to do the timeline notes.
- Do the homework it matters
- Do the homework.
- do the homework
- Make sure to use the great resources Loja provides like his website and his twitter account
- It's an interesting AP class that is not stressful, and out of the AP classes offered, it's the only one that really prepares you for the AP exam.
- If there was anything that I would tell AP students next year is that they should have good notes that they keep in an organized binder.
- I would tell them to make sure to read all the articles that you give them because it really does help prepare you for the exam.
- Do the reading before class and be aware of the subject matter before class discussions. It makes class much more enjoyable if you are prepared.
- watch Adam Norris videos to prepare for each test/quiz
- Don't take the time you have before the AP exam (a whole year) for granted. It comes up fast. Right now, Loja has the countdown clock on the board and I already feel like I'm running out of time. I'm not even taking it next year. Review what you learn throughout the year, Don't wait to review in the couple weeks before you take the test.
- Make sure to read all the articles, and watch all the videos posted. The outside information makes the AP exam a lot easier.
