

2017-2018 APUSH Survey

Question: If there's anything that you could tell next year's AP students, what would it be?

Student Responses:

- Do the readings! Do the homework! Mediocrity is not accepted, have fun
- Don't miss a homework assignment
- Just pay attention for one hour a day and you'll succeed
- Do the homework
- Do homework and take notes. Loja will help you for the exam, so do not worry.
- To do the homework and watch the video clips, because they help a lot.
- You will be fine! Just start studying when Loja tells you because he knows what is up and when it is a good time to start. Do all the homework because they help with explanations for the short answers and DBQs. Also, watch the crash course videos that he assigns because I felt like those were some of the most helpful pieces of study material along with the timelines,
- Have fun when learning this material. Don't memorize the material, but rather understand it.
- Do the homework and watch the crash course videos. Do the practice DBQs that Loja always hands out and start studying for the exam before April.
- Do your homework DO THE TIMELINE, watch the videos he posts on twitter
- You really only need to pay attention during the lectures and try on the classwork, and the rest of the class is easy.
- Do your homework, go on to his website, study for the very first test (its hard!)
  - homework counts heavily towards your grade, you could get a 58 on a test and still have a 95 for the term if you do your homework! - if Loja is going too fast through the power-points, ask him to slow down! The info he says during his power-points is very important!
- Do your homework, as its most of your grade. Although studying helps, as long as you listen in class you will do fine on the exam.
- Do the homework and don't miss a day because you will get so behind you won't know what you're doing.
- As long as you pay attention in class and do the homework. The quizzes are much harder than anything that was on the AP exam.
- Do your homework and pay attention in class, make sure you study US!
- Do all the homework and readings they help a lot.
- STUDY, I cannot stress this enough Mr. Loja gives the best resources and it is so important to use them
- Even though studying sucks, DO IT, you will be light years in front of others and well prepared for the AP exam.
- Make sure you pay attention in class and do the homework!! No one will prepare you for the AP exam as well as Mr. Loja will! Loja prepares you more than any other AP teacher at school for the exam
- Make sure you do your homework, and do all of the Gilder Lehrman timelines they really help!
- Do the work, the Adam Norris videos are very helpful.
- Follow everything that Loja says exactly and you'll get a 5. Do the timelines!!
- Make sure you do the homework it will really help your grade
- Actually start studying when your told to
- Listen in class because it helps a lot
- If you put the work in every single day and do the homework, when it comes time to study for the exam, you will realize that all of the ideas and fundamentals of both the content on the exam and the exam structure itself have become second nature to you. Hence, if you put the work in, the path to success is significantly easier than it would be if you don't.
- Actually do your homework yourself and absorb the information, it'll pay off
- I know it might seem stupid, but study as early as February break. Your future self will love you because they won't be stressing out a week before the exam.
- If you put in the work, the exam will be simple. Do the homework. It's never too early to study- especially early US History
- Do the homework, it will help your grade and you can use the information as synthesis points on the AP exam
